The History Press is pleased to introduce the new title:

Soldiers of Saratoga County From Concord to Kabul Paul Post

Saratoga played a pivotal role in winning America's independence, but the contributions from this Upstate New York county did not end there. Hundreds of soldiers hailing from the region have served in all of the United States military's most crucial engagements, from the French and Indian War to the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan. Hear about the aide to General George Washington, the man and his three sons who fought to preserve the nation during the Civil War, the soldiers who survived Pearl Harbor to battle Nazis at Normandy and Japanese at Iwo Jima and the modern-day heroes protecting America from foreign insurgents. From heroism abroad to heartache at home, author Paul Post commemorates the extraordinary courage that was born and bred in Saratoga County.

Media review copies, high-resolution photographs and interviews available upon request.

Paul Post has been in the newspaper field for thirty years, the past fifteen with The Saratogian in Saratoga Springs, New York, where he has won numerous state and national writing awards. His November 2008 three-part series on veterans won first place in the Suburban Newspapers of America national feature-writing contest. Those stories and the subjects he profiled—Morris Katz (World War II), Bob Nevins (Vietnam) and Mike Biss (Afghanistan)—are contained in Soldiers of Saratoga County, the author's third book. His other works are The Never Ending Story, What's Fit to Print: The Life of Harness Racing Legend Harold Story and Foresight 20/20: The Life of Major League Baseball Scout Ralph DiLullo. He lives in Glens Falls, New York, and enjoys sports, travel and history.
